30 Years Experience

perfecting the art of remote horse riding safaris in one of the most beautiful places on the planet,

the Namib's desert

Included in the rate is your transfer from Windhoek International Airport to first overnight; transfer next day to start of the ride in the Tiras Reserve. On the last day of safari, transfer back to Windhoek International Airport from Aus.

Wild Horses Safari

Iconic Namibia

This adventurous ride includes some of the Namib's most breath-taking desert landscapes. From the great dune sea of the central Namib to the edge of the infamous Sperrgebiet (German for restricted area) this ride covers very diverse desert terrain - from the rugged Tiras Mountain Reserve, across the immense grassy plains dotted with inselbergs (island mountains), to the dunes of the Namib Sand Sea.

This safari starts in the Tiras Biosphere Reserve and ends at Klein Aus Vista, near the home of the Namib's, Namibia's Wild Horses.

Being on Safari

- Camp life has a leisurely pace - days begin at sunrise with the aroma of freshly brewed coffee wafting through camp. After an ample breakfast we start riding around 8 am for 4 - 5 hours with a dismounted apple-break in-between. Lunch breaks are 1 - 2 hours, followed by another 2 - 3 hours riding in the afternoon.
- We ride 20 - 50 km per day at all paces over rough desert terrain. This ride has a challenging 27 km crossing of the Namib Dune Sea - of course this is very much part of this safari's appeal, as are the inspiring landscapes
- Our Gallery page gives good insights into what it's like being on safari - eating, sleeping, riding....living with horses 24/7 and those perfect evenings around the campfire. Also see our Frequently Asked Questions page for more information

- While camping hot bucket showers are available in the evenings and either chemical or long drop toilets at all campsites.
- You sleep in a warm, comfortable bedroll on a stretcher - tents are available if required - although you miss out on the spectacular stars overhead - few places on earth have zero light pollution.....this is one of those few. See our blog on the Milky Way and the legend of Phaeton's Scar.
- We try to cater for dietary exclusions, however, the remote nature of these safaris makes some difficult to cater for.

Summary of Itinerary

Days 1 + 2 Arrival and Transfer

Welcome to Namibia

A shuttle service will collect you from Windhoek International Airport (Hosea Kutako) to your first overnight in Windhoek (your name will be on a welcome board). Meet your fellow riders and host/riding guide Andrew Gillies for sundowners and dinner at River Crossing Lodge. Andrew will give you a briefing about your adventure.

After breakfast on day two, there is a 5-hour commute to our lunch spot in the quaint hamlet of Maltahöhe, followed by a decent down the picturesque Zaris Pass to our camp in the Tiras Biosphere Reserve. Settle in and explore your surroundings - here you will meet your crew, your horse and be instructed in how to be 'desert savvy'.

Days 3 - 9 Tiras Mountains to the Desert Plains

We set off up the rugged Tiras Mountains via one of the meandering dry washes coming down from the plateau above. This unspoiled landscape has forced landowners to find sensitive ways to utilise this fragile area which is generally left to be natural. Boasting exceptional panoramic views from above - sentinel inselbergs (island mountains) dot the desertscape below with the distant dune sea towards which we are heading.

Desert adapted game are encountered during the day and open country with good going allows for some fast-paced riding. Lunch is enjoyed under a convenient tree or interesting spot with a good view. Overnight camps are chosen for their spectacular views - sleeping under the magnificent starry sky is a must - it has its own kind of magic. Few places on earth afford so little light pollution - allowing for an incomparable view of the magnificent southern constellation. Our route may vary depending on weather conditions, or other circumstances but be assured every day will be memorable.

Crossing the dune sea is an experience in itself and you will come to appreciate why we chose this route - the remarkable desert-scapes on the far side are as true "Namib" as one can get.

Day 10 Excursion Day

On our penultimate day we visit the coastal town of Luderitz, and explore the historic 'ghost town' of Kolmanskop – the historic mining town the desert is 'reclaiming'.

On our way back to our lodge, we stop for a sundowner at the water-hole of the Namib's - Namibia's wild horses.
